Who should complete this form?

This form is required for applicants to the Reach for Excellence (RfE) scheme that believe they meet the criterion of being from a household with a gross annual income of £25,000 or below. This form is not required if the applicant is in receipt of 16-19 Bursary Fund (with income threshold of £25,000 or below); or was in receipt of free school meals during their GCSE studies.

The main wage earner of the household must complete and sign this form and it must be submitted with a completed RfE application.

If you are an RfE applicant who lives independently, please fill in the form yourself and check the box below to confirm this.

How will my household income be assessed?

The information provided on this form will be used to confirm your eligibility for the RfE household income criterion.

To be eligible for the RfE income criterion, the applicant's gross annual household income should be £25,000 or below. This includes all taxable income received or earned during the tax year 2023-24 by both parents/guardians (where applicable). This excludes non-taxable benefits and £1,130 for any child who is totally, or mainly, financially dependent on you or your partner.

We reserve the right to ask for proof of household income, such as P60 or previous payslips. If it is found that an applicant, their parent, guardian or referee have supplied inaccurate information on this application we reserve the right to withdraw your application from the RfE scheme.
